

IMMIGRATION QUOTAS ARE FIXED FOR YEAR

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(P)—A presidential proclamation was issued today fixing immigration quotas for the next year.

The quotas for principal nations follow:
Austria, 1,413; Belgium, 1,304; Czechoslovakia, 1,181; France, 25,957; Great Britain and Ireland, 17,853; Italy, 3,153; Norway, 2,712; Sweden, 3,314; Switzerland, 1,707.

The fixing of the quotas is an annual formality. As a matter of fact, in recent years immigration has been reduced to a veritable minimum far below the quota figures, principally by the imposition of the rule that no immigrant is to be admitted who may become a public charge.

Africans In Canada Await Admission To United States were brought to America to work. Seven Bastoland Negroes who in a motion picture are quartered at the Salvation Army Hostel here awaiting word from the United States Bureau of Immigration which will allow them to return to their families in New York and continue to their homes on the African West Coast.

The Africans were returned here from the border when they attempted to re-enter the United States after completing an engagement at the Canadian National Exhibition here.

RIGHTING AN INJUSTICE.

A sweeping reversal of public opinion is disclosed in the reaction by the people of the Pacific states to a recently launched movement to remove the exclusion clause, under which orientals are not permitted to enter this country from the immigration act passed in 1924, and to substitute for it a quota system similar to that extended to other nations.

The insertion of this clause in the immigration act was accomplished largely as the result of the activities of jingo elements on the Pacific coast.

The uselessness of the exclusion year, the United States congress de-step, and its affront to nations with liberately shut the door to our friends from the Far East, while friendly relations, was stressed at leaving the barriers down to such the time by such outstanding Amer-undesirables as the Mexican peons icans as former Secretary of State and the scum of the earth from the Hughes, by President Coolidge and central European countries.

Now there has been organized the California Council on Oriental Re-in conformity with recognized prin-ciples of international courtesy and righting this injustice, and it is fair dealing, making for mutual un-meeting with practically unanimous derstanding and good will.

Chief among the organizations supporting the campaign are the American Legion, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs, and the Chambers of Commerce of the large majority of cities in the west coast state. Lending their encouragement to the move are also the presidents of the large universities and leading public- and private citizens.

Seldom has so united a demand been voiced in the United States. Since this demand from the section responsible for the insertion of the objectionable clause it is to be expected that congress at its next session will take action to right a wrong which should never have been done.

Japan and China, long friends of the United States, have never ques-tioned the right of this country to exclude aliens, but they have pro- tested the reflection upon them brought about by the application of a quota system to every other na- tion in the world while they were singled out for total exclusion.

The uselessness of this unwar-ranted affront to these friendly neighbor nations can be realized when it is taken into consideration that under the quota system, to which they have no complaint, there would have been admitted to the country each year only 185 Japanese and 105 Chinese, and that among these could not be included any laborers.

To avoid some fancied threat to its population of 120,000,000 people from these 290 orientals each year, the United States congress de-step, and its affront to nations with liberately shut the door to our friends from the Far East, while friendly relations, was stressed at leaving the barriers down to such the time by such outstanding Amer-undesirables as the Mexican peons icans as former Secretary of State and the scum of the earth from the Hughes, by President Coolidge and central European countries.

Now California leaders, while publican congress listened to the sticking to the position that rigid clamor from the west and inserted restriction of Asiatics is of vital im- portance, take the correct position that this exclusion should be accomplished by legislation which is in conformity with recognized prin-ciples of international courtesy and fair dealing, making for mutual un- derstanding and good will.

The San Francisco News sums up the situation as follows:

Japanese exclusion on a basis of racial discrimination was put through congress in 1924 long after immigra- tion had been stopped and the econom- ic problem solved. It seemed to Ja- pan, and indeed was, a gratuitous in- sult, and we should make amends by repealing it and substituting for it the quota system by which immigration from all countries is limited to a very small percentage annually of those al-

The Japanese are a proud and sen- sitive race, with a tradition of pa- triotism and self-sacrifice. We owe it to ourselves to follow the same standard in our international relations that we set for ourselves in our per- comensal relations at home. The cheap and shallow jingoism of the man who carries a chip on his shoulder is as offensive in international relations as among individuals and must have no place in our attitude toward Japan.

Such a step by congress would go far towards bringing our Japa- nese neighbors to a realization that the apparently studied efforts to affront them on the part of the Stimson regime in the state depart- ment did not reflect the sentiment of the people of the United States, and is in no wise the attitude of the new democratic administration.

It is a step of international jus- tice and decency which this country should take at the earliest possible moment.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 24.—Au- thoritative studies of the early his- tory of the white race were cited here today by Dr. Dinshah Pestanji Framji Ghadiali of Malaga, N. J., in an answer to a move by the natu- ralization authorities to cancel his citizenship on the contention that he is a Hindu and not of the white race.

Dr. Ghadiali asserted that he was a Parsee-Zoroastrian of the Indo- Iranian race, which he said was the same group from which the Teu- tonic, Celtic and Italic nations were descended. Citizenship in this coun- try may be granted only to aliens who are "free white persons," and to persons of African nativity or African descent.

Dr. Ghadiali was admitted into full citizenship in 1917 by Common Pleas Judge William M. Seufert in Bergen County, N. J., after declar- ing his intention to become a citi- zen in 1913. He served in the police reserve air service for two years during the World War, during which he attained the rank of Colonel.

Indicating concern that the gov- ernment should have waited for six- teen years to question his citizen- ship, Dr. Ghadiali pointed out that if his certificate were set aside, he would become a "man without a country," and that his wife and family would be placed in a diffi- cult position. United States Attor- ney Harlan Besson, who will prose- cute the action, said that the case was "unusual."
